No. F.5-13/2011-Admn. (Part)

18th October, 2011

Dear Sir/Madam

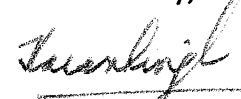

You are aware that the Teen Murti House, where Jawaharlal Nehru, the first Prime Minister and the architect of independent India, lived for more than sixteen years until his death in 1964, was converted, soon after into a memorial to perpetuate his eternal passion for enlarging the frontiers of knowledge and enriching the human mind. This memorial, known as the Nehru Memorial Museum and Library (NMML), is an autonomous institution under the Ministry of Culture.

The NMML has one of the largest archives in the country of material relating to the Indian freedom struggle in particular, and modern and contemporary India in general. It also has an invaluable collection of publications, newspapers, manuscripts, oral history records and other academic documents which have been widely used by hundreds of scholars over the last five decades. We also have Fellowship programmes, seminars, lectures, publications, and a variety of other activities including a learning centre for children and young adults. The Museum itself is visited by thousands of people every day, and has become a major attraction for people from all over India and abroad.

The NMML is looking for a suitable person to fill up the post of Director, the incumbent of which heads the institution. This has been necessitated by the quashing of the appointment of the present Director by the Honourable High Court of Delhi. The terms of appointment and a copy of the advertisement calling for applications are enclosed. We would appreciate if you could circulate information about the vacancy as widely as possible within your department/organization/university including by putting up notices on notice boards. I would be very grateful if you could kindly accede to my request.

With kind regards.

Yours sincerely,

(Karan Singh)
