Subject:—Economy in expenditure—Observance of austerity in Official functions.

Sir,

I am directed to refer to the subject noted above and to say that the Chief Minister, Haryana has observed the growing tendency of ostentation and wasteful expenditure during official functions connected with him. A large number of flower bouquets/garlands etc. are presented to him which is a wasteful practice resulting in avoidable expenditure.

2. There is need to conserve every single Rupee so as to mobilise all available resources for development of the State. It is, accordingly, directed that, in future, instead of ostentation, the spirit of austerity should be reflected in official functions connected with the Chief Minister, Haryana and no flower bouquets/garlands etc. should be presented.

3. The above instructions may kindly be complied with meticulously.

Yours faithfully,
