To

Subject: Rising cases of Stubble Burning online data monitoring tool.

Sir / Madam,

You are aware that the Commission for air Quality Management (CAQM) has taken a serious note of air pollution due to stubble burning.

2. State Government has taken various steps and issued repeated directions for prevention of stubble burning. It has to be ensured that wherever harvesting has not taken place, teams are constituted and deployed round the clock to check stubble burning. In addition, in-situ and ex-situ Crop Residue Management machines should be deployed in the concerned villages so that stubble burning can be prevented.

3. It is also imperative that site verification of stubble burning incidents is done on the very same day and a daily progress report is sent to the control room of Chief Secretary, Haryana as well as the Agriculture Department.

4. The office of Chief Secretary, Haryana has developed an online data management module to record data from all districts in respect of stubble burning and investigation thereof. The weblink for online data collection module (<http://164.100.137.36/datacollection/>) has the following fields:

	No. of AFL found on Agricultural Land
