Public Administration International
Strengthening Governance Worldwide

PAI will be running several workshops in 2023 for policy advisors and senior decision makers in governments, as well as several leadership programmes in London and Dubai throughout this year. Register for our free webinar here: Innovating in the Public Sector: Identifying the big dilemma scheduled for 27 April

Better Regulation: Protecting citizens

5 to 9 June 2023 in London

This workshop is for policy advisers and senior decision makers in governments responsible for regulation and regulatory policy. It concentrates on the regulation of public safety and consumer protection. It has two main components:

- You will be briefed about regulatory regimes in the UK and elsewhere. We will explore the changes which the UK has made in order to protect consumers and the environment more effectively
- You will meet practitioners in government, regulatory bodies and industry to examine and discuss latest approaches and trends.

Making Policy More Effective

24 July to 4 August 2023 in London

30 October to 10 November 2023 in London

The workshop is delivered in two week-long modular sessions which can be attended in its entirety or as separate modules. It provides a comprehensive overview of policy analysis, evidence use, and impact analysis, monitoring and evaluation, taking an in-depth look at how to analyse policy, use research and evidence, and evaluate the effects and impact of policy decisions.

Policy Analysis and Use of Evidence

24 to 28 July 2023 in London

30 October to 3 November 2023 in London

The workshop will enable you to:

- Make better decisions about policies and services by using the best available evidence to form your judgments
- Make critical judgments about evidence from research and evaluation, and understand how this fits with other factors that influence and inform policy-making
- Mentor colleagues in evidence-based policy-making and in how to use research evidence effectively
- Procure and manage research and evaluation, and professional analytical services, effectively and efficiently.

Impact Assessment and Evaluation

31 July to 4 August 2023 in London

6 to 10 November 2023 in Dubai

The workshop will enable you to:

- Improve the planning, procurement and management of impact evaluations and assessments
- Use methods of impact evaluation to identify the most effective, efficient and value for money policy initiatives
- Develop and use monitoring techniques effectively
- Undertake delivery reviews and develop action plans where impacts are not being achieved
- Improve the accountability of policy-making and public services in your locality, region or country.

Innovating in the Public Sector

4 to 8 September 2023 in London

This workshop is designed as an integrated experiential one week "Policy/Innovation Laboratory, where the latest theories, models, innovation tools, processes and best practices are presented and immediately applied to "real life" situations (brought by you, the participants) in order to develop new perspectives, insights and possibilities.

Digital Transformation of Public Services

13 to 17 November 2023 in Dubai

The ultimate goal of this workshop is to support public administrations in adopting cost- effective and flexible digital solutions and strategies. During the week, we will focus on using and analysing digital transformation solutions and strategies to transform decision making and service delivery practices at all levels of government.

Translating Strategies into Policies that Work

20 to 24 November 2023 in London

Strategy is crucial to building an organisation that is focused on the future, while at the same time developing policies that work today. Short-term thinking, lack of engagement with stakeholders as part of the process and weak understanding of how to identify and manage risks have all contributed to numerous policy failures. This workshop will provide you with a suite of tools and techniques for developing strategy, policy, and scenario planning, through a series of practical exercises based on a case study. You will understand the essential elements and stages of policy making. You will also hear from a UK strategy unit and other experienced practitioners and consider examples of best practice.

To reserve your provisional place, please complete our booking form. Although the world has adapted and everyday life and travel now carries on, in some countries travel is still not possible. If you would like to join our workshops virtually, please do contact me. To find out how we can tailor these workshops to run in your own country, please email me on denise.smart@public-admin.co.uk or contact me on WhatsApp on +44 7518 934368.
