HUDCO's HUMAN SETTLEMENT MANAGEMENT INSTITUTE

In-Service Training on

Urban Development in India: Cities of Tomorrow - Equitable, Sustainable and ResilientBACKGROUND HUDCO's HSMI:

HSMI was established in 1985 as the research and training wing of HUDCO, to provide training support for professionals and a forum for interaction of administrators, professionals, researchers and others engaged with the issues of human settlement development.

HUDCO's HSMI is recognized as a leading research and training institution in the housing and urban development sector and is involved with capacity building both at the regional and national level for more than 30 years. HUDCO's HSMI has been designated as a national resource centre for giving technical inputs in the policies and programmes pertaining to housing and urban development of the Ministry.

VENUE:

HUDCO Bhawan, India Habitat Centre
Lodhi Road, New Delhi
10.30 hrs. – 17.30 hrs

HUDCO's HSMI organizes variety of activities like seminar, workshop, and conferences for internal and external professionals. About 1/3rd of the Indian population lives in urban areas and this trend is going to see a surge in the coming years. Cities are the pivotal centres for economic growth, employment creation, innovative and cultural exchange. However, cities are also places where problems of poverty, unemployment & inequality and associated ills like homelessness, traffic snarls, water scarcity, open defecation and air pollution are concentrated.

These problems are going to magnify much more in the years ahead with increased inflow of population into cities and extreme weather events linked to global climate change like flooding, tropical cyclones, heat waves and epidemic. The traditional models of urban development that one has been following if perpetuated further would lock us into congestion, sprawl and inefficient resource use. Sustainable, resilient and equitable growth where buildings and infrastructure systems are not only resilient but also more resource efficient would create city level infrastructure systems that is futuristic and adaptive to future demands.

HSMI, being a national level training institution in the country, the MoHUA has instructed HSMI to impart training on various issues related to housing and urban development. Keeping such challenges in mind, HUDCO's HSMI is organizing a Training Programme on 'Cities of Tomorrow- Sustainable, Resilient and Inclusive'.
