SINGAPORE COOPERATION PROGRAMME

under the

to be conducted by

THE CENTRE FOR LIVEABLE CITIES

Singapore Cooperation Programme

Singapore has provided technical assistance to other developing countries since the 1960s. As a country whose only resource is its people, Singapore believes that human resource development is vital for economic and social progress. Singapore itself has benefited from training provided by other countries and international organisations.

In 1992, the Singapore Cooperation Programme (SCP) was established to bring together under one framework the various technical assistance programmes offered by Singapore. Through the SCP, the range and number of training programmes were increased to share Singapore's development experience with other developing countries.

To date, over 137,000 officials from more than 180 countries and territories have participated in our courses and study visits. The SCP is managed by the Technical Cooperation Directorate of the Ministry of Foreign Affairs, Singapore.

The Centre for Liveable Cities

The Centre for Liveable Cities (CLC) was established in 2008 by the Ministry of National Development and the Ministry of the Environment and Water Resources (which was renamed as the Ministry of Sustainability and the Environment in 2020).

CLC's mission is to distil, create and share knowledge on liveable and sustainable cities. CLC's work spans four main areas – Research, Capability Development, Knowledge Platforms, and Advisory. Through these activities, CLC hopes to provide urban leaders and practitioners with the knowledge and support needed to make our cities better.
